Not illustrated. 1840 Excerpt: . 1535, Which was the first Visitation of Cambridge, Jure Regio. 1 First, that every student or scholar within this University of Cambridge shall observe all and every of the statutes, institutions, ordinances, and laudable usages of this University, and of the college, hall, hostel, or house where he dwells, according to what was enacted at their first foundation, as far as they do not contravene these above-mentioned injunctions, or the study of good and sacred learning, or act in opposition to the laws and statutes of this kingdom. Also, that no master or fellow of any college, hall, or hostel, specified in the above royal injunctions, shall henceforth sell to any one or alienate the society to which he belongs, on any feigned or deliberate pretext, nor shall he for the future receive any sum of money for the admission or reception of any scholar. We also will and strictly charge that, in future, factions shall altogether cease and close between the fellow-members, or fellows and others of this or that country, city, or college; nor in the election of fellows, scholars, presidents, or in any other public proceeding, or in giving similar suffrages, shall they side with him who is of the same nation with them rather than with him who is deservedly to be preferred for his zeal for learning, integrity of life and conduct, and other good qualities of mind and body; since it is very disgraceful, especially to those who are...
